

Information for restriction of use of hazardous substances in electro and electronic devices according to RoHS-2-RL.

To our customers,

guideline 2011/65/EU for restriction of use of hazardous substances in electro and electronic devices is valid since June 08th 2011.

Herewith we like to inform you that our products delivered to you are not embraced by the scope of application of the a.m. guideline resp. regulation. The designated use of our products is exempted explicitly in §2 para. 4 no. c to f of Guideline 2011/65/EU. Our products therefore meet the requirements of RoHS.

We observe continuously via our management systems the future modifications of the legal requirements and will carry out all necessary adaptations in order to keep in line with the guideline.

For further information please do not hesitate to contact us.
